Day 8 - Navua River Rafting Adventure

trip to Fiji

Deep in Fiji's tropical plateaus, the Upper Navua River cuts an emerald ribbon through black, volcanic gorges. Set out for a rafting adventure down this untouched waterway.

The Upper Navua River winds sandwiched between steep, 130-foot (40 m) cliffs of dusky lava rocks, surrounded by the lush vegetation of the tropics. Float through this tranquil scenery, passing dozens of cascading waterfalls and keep an eye out for native flora and fauna like graceful herons and brilliantly coloured parrots. Enjoy a picnic lunch by the river bank and just soak in the surroundings.

Day 10 - Coral Coast Tour with Visit to Market & Traditional Village

A place which will become your home away from home, the coral coast includes Sigatoka and all its villages located on the fringes of the life giving Pacific Ocean.

A small town with a big heart, Sigatoka and the Coral Coast will steal your heart with its friendly locals, amazing food and culture and spectacular surroundings. From towering, green mountains and rolling hills and valleys to the translucent and pure waters of the sea, everywhere the eye sees beauty. Look around for intriguing souvenirs at a local handicraft market, witness traditional practises at a frozen-in-time village, and watch artists make elusive pottery and palm furniture.

Day 11 - Small-Group Off-Road Safari with Naihehe Caves

Take a ride over rugged landscapes in an all-terrain vehicle to the fortress-like grotto that was once home to one of Fiji's native tribes. Step into the hidden world at the Naihehe Caves, and visit the home of a village priest to participate in a traditional kava ceremony.

The name Naihehe means "to get lost" in Fijian, and it's a fitting name for these secret caves deep within the Sigatoka Valley. During Fiji's tribal rivalry days, the Sautabu mountain people used the cave as a place of sanctuary, seeking shelter deep underground and climbing to a hidden opening to gather food when enemies surrounded its main entrance. Fiji's last tribal war took place here, after the Sautabu had camped out in the darkness for 79 days.
